

Testimonials.

“As a North American attorney trying to navigate the complexities of the English court and judicial system on behalf of a prominent Russian businessman - as well as working with a large English litigation file - I consider myself lucky to have met Nola who has given immense value and support to me and my client every step of the way.

She immediately made herself completely available to the client's needs, assisted me almost as co-counsel to make strategic decisions, took control of instructions to external counsel – both international law firms and barristers – evaluated past performance issues and took a hard look at costings which ended up achieving for our client meaningful fee savings.

She is very clever, totally organized and works as long and as hard as necessary to produce thoughtful and timely reviews, analyses and follow-ups. Her being held in high regard by Barristers' chambers was a major plus. She is also a totally charming woman, consultant and new friend.”

Harry Bloomfield QC, Bloomfield et Associes, B.A., LL.B., M.B.A. (Harvard)

---

“It is good to know that we can draw on someone with your experience and firepower when the need arises. I am sure there will be other opportunities.”

Senior Dispute Resolution Partner, International Law Firm

---

“Nola was engaged to prepare my witness evidence and prepare me to give testimony in a high profile, high value litigation which was very important to my corporation. As a senior executive, my time to prepare was limited.

The support I had from Nola was fantastic and totally suited to my needs. I was provided with key documentation relevant to my testimony and had refresher sessions on my witness evidence at times which were suitable to me. Although the issues were complex and had happened some time ago, I felt relaxed and well prepared as I went in to give evidence. I could not have done it without Nola, who was personable, organised, very easy to work with and who became a very trusted adviser. I would have no hesitation in recommending Nola to other executives preparing to give evidence.”

Senior Executive, NYSE Listed Company